Samovar Museum

Kolomna is a lovely town near Moscow. It is famous for its local museums. One of them is the Kolomna Samovar Museum. It is the Kingdom of Samovars from all over the world. There are about 500 samovars in the museum. They are of different colours, shapes and sizes. Samovars look like apples, pears, mushrooms etc. They are wedding and crystal. Samovars are giant and small. In the museum you can see the Russian oven¹ and take a photo on it, too. You must go to Kolomna and visit the museum some day!

History and Legends

Kolomna is one of the most ancient towns in the Moscow Region and one of the most beautiful ones.

It has played a significant role in the history of our country.

Spotlight on Kolomna decides to find out more about the legends of the town

At the beginning of the XVIIth century there was the so-called Time of Troubles – the period of civil wars and foreign intervention. That unstable situation was used by the adventurers - False-Dmitry I and False-Dmitry II. They encroached upon the Russian throne.

Maryna Mniszech, the wife of the first pretender, and Cossack Zarutsky in summer 1612 conquered the town, burned a lot of buildings and desolated the houses. After that they headed to Ryazan¹, but they couldn't take all the treasure. That was why it was hidden in 25 versts to the direction of the town not far from Bogorodskoe village. All the things are said to have been hidden into a large pit and covered with the great gates of the Pyatnitskaya Tower.

The legends about the hidden treasure still excite the imagination of treasure-hunters. Plenty of them had even tried to find it, but failed. Some people believe that Maryna was a witch and protected the treasure with a powerful spell! Believe it or not, but the gates really disappeared!

One more legend is also connected with the name of Maryna Mniszech. She is said to have been imprisoned here, in one of the towers of the Kolomna Kremlin. However, she magically escaped having turned into a magpie...

Don't believe it?

Well, the Marinkina Tower, as people call it today, is the only one, that still attracts birds. Lots of birds. Do you know why?

Kolomna is like an old carved chest. How many beautiful secrets and legends are hidden here! The captivating mysteries of the Kolomna land, hidden treasures, relics of church antiquity and military glory etc. Do you know all these secrets?

Spotlight on Kolomna puzzles out some mysteries and secrets of Kolomna region

Kolomna is an ancient Russian town, located in a little over one hundred versts to the south-east direction from Moscow. During the period of the Troubled Times the adventurers Pseudo-Dmitry the First and after his death Pseudo-Dmitry the Second encroached upon the Russian throne. Their wife Marina Mnishek had been living for some time in Kolomna. In summer 1612 she and her lover Cossack Chieftain Zarutsky plundered the town and left for the Ryazan¹ lands. It was difficult and dangerous to take all the seizing things with them. That was why they decided to bide a part of the goods not far from Bogorodskoe village. The legends about the hidden treasure gave provincial adventurers no peace from century to century.

Secret of the name

The mysterious word Kolomna. In this very name there is a secret associated with the history of our land. Once upon a time there lived Fimo-Ugrie tribes. They gave the local rivers their nicknames. A thousand years ago the Slavs came here. They mingled with other tribes, their eyes took on the color of the northern sky, and their hair became light brown, but the language and culture remained the same, Slavic. Only the names of rivers and lakes spoke of the past. In one of the local languages, the root "kol" meant "fish". That means "a fish place" (although there are many versions of the origin of the town name).

On the northern wall of the St. John the Baptist Church there is a stone with the image of a fantastic beast, similar to the leopard and the unicorn. People call it "Batu stamp". It is considered to be the heraldic sign of the Kolomna inheritance. In 2011, a silver coin with the image of a Batu stamp was discovered not far from Kolomna.

My Lovely Ancient Town
Matvey Polyakov

I live in lovely ancient town,
Kolomna it is called.
It has a lot of pretty sights,
Which're both new and old.
I'm proud of the Kremlin walls,
The churches and the steeple.
Ice-palace with its spacious halls
Is dear to the people.
They always meet their guests
With kind and friendly faces,
And take them all to rest
To quiet, cosy places.
Small Saucer bank, Cathedral Square
The convents look so bright!
Kolomna's splendid all year round

For Us to Remember

77 years ago Soviet people gloriously finished the Great Patriotic War. But even today we find out a lot of new facts about the war: new details, new names of Kolomoyskiy citizens, who showed courage in the battles.

A famous local historian Anatoly Kazovkin makes a great contribution into the good deed. All his materials are based on real documents and events. Anatoly Kazovkin wrote about 80 books devoted to Kolomoyskiy citizens who fought in the front and worked in the rear for the sake of the victory. Some of his books are about the history of the war, others tell about the Heroes of the Soviet Union and simple and active defenders of their land, who lived in Kolomoyskiy.

The book "The Golden Constellation of Kolomoyskiy Citizens" was written by Anatoly Kazovkin in 1976. In his "Heroes of Kolomoyskiy" he tells the readers about 55 Heroes of the Soviet Union. His book "The Kolomoyskiy Citizens in a Glorious Name" consists of 40 stories. One of them is devoted to the Hero of the Soviet Union Denis Khayev, who died while saving the Drizhyn. Anatoly Kazovkin proposed to install the bust to D. Khayev on the Alley of Ministry of Defense.

The writer worked and inspected a lot of real information in different sources, and the reader learnt about some heroes of the Soviet Union from his books for the first time. Nikolay Vlasov was one of such heroes. In 1941, the pilot was brought down by the enemies' artillery and, unfortunately, was captured. Trying to make him cooperate with them, the fascists offered the Nikolay Vlasov to join the Hitler's Gold Star in the concentration camp, but that didn't help, and the Soviet pilot was killed.

Nowadays, Anatoly Kazovkin continues his search, tracks the personalities, the books and the databases. He is looking forward to celebrating the 77th anniversary of the Victory Day.

An Armourer in the Service of Peace

There are numerous places in Russia connected with the gloomy pages of our history. The monument to Michael Kalashnikov is one of them.

The monument to Lieutenant General Michael Kalashnikov was opened in Kolomoyskiy Memorial Park on the 24th of May, 2019.

Michael Kalashnikov lived in Kolomoyskiy for 7 years (1942 – 1949). He was a legendary constructor of more than 150 kinds of firearms, a double Hero of Socialist Labour, the Hero of Russia. Michael Kalashnikov called the military unit in Shchurovo his university where he studied small arms engineering theory and construction. He is known as the inventor of the weapon, well-known all over the world, the assault rifle AK-47. This invention has made his name immortal in the world of arms history.

The idea to erect the bust appeared not long ago, in the August of 2018. The daughter of the famous inventor, Elena Kalashnikova, visited Kolomoyskiy and was fascinated by the Memorial Park alley under the blue fir-trees. She decided that the bust should be placed just there because her father loved nature and fir-trees.

The monument is a classical bust on a simple base, made of bronze. It is impressive and shows the General as a strong-willed, purposeful man who began a new era in the history of the firearms. Such people only can make great deeds for the sake of their Motherland and its prosperity.

The author of the bust is Vladimir Kurochkin. He was acquainted with the inventor and met him, which helped the sculptor in his work. He studied a lot of video materials and documents.

A.S. Maslov

Victory Day is a symbol of national pride, glory and folk's feat of arm. We must remember the Great Patriotic War and its heroes. One of them is the pilot A.S. Maslov.

SPOTLIGHT ON RUSSIA FINDS OUT MORE ABOUT "FIRE RAM" BY ALEXANDER MASLOV

Alexander Spiridonovich Maslov was born in the village of Andreevskoye, Kolomoyskiy district of the Moscow Region. The date of his birth is the 22nd of November, 1907. In 1921 Alexander graduated from the factory school in Kolomoyskiy. In 1921 – 1926 he studied at school for peasant youth in Aninno.

In October, 1929 Alexander Maslov was drafted into the Red Army. After finishing he decided to study at the aviation school of pilots in Leningrad and devote his life to military aircraft. From 1935 Alexander served in the 82 Heavy Bomber Squadron of the 21 Heavy Bomb Aviation Brigade, based in Rostov-on-Don together with Nikolai Gastello.

He met the beginning of World War II as the commander of the 3rd squadron of the 207-th aviation regiment. On the fifth day of the war, the 25th of June, Captain Maslov received an order - to launch a bombing attack against enemy troops moving from Vilna to Minsk. Maslov attacked the enemy near the village of Radoshkovich. Leaving from the target they noticed the smoke coming from the plane. The plane turned on a cluster of German tanks and cars, went into a dive and crashed into the thick of enemy equipment. Until the last moment, from the flaming plane, the enemy was fired by Lieutenant V.M. Balushov and Junior G.B. Reytov, B. Beiksbaev. They fought to the end.

The bust on the territory of Provodnikovskaya School

Until 1990 the captain Maslov and his crew remained missed in action. However, during the reburial near Radoshkovich, Reytov's medallion was found. So, it was stated that the feat was accomplished by the crew of A.S. Maslov.

In 1992, A.S. Maslov was awarded the Order of the Patriotic War and in 1996 he and his crew were awarded the titles "Hero of Russia". One of the schools in Kolomoyskiy region was called in honor of the captain Maslov. On June 26, 2015 in the settlement of Provodnik there was an unveiling ceremony for the bust of the military pilot. The bust has been presented by Zurab Tsereteli as his gift.

Therefore, remembering the feat of the crew of Maslov, we should not forget that hundreds more soldiers deserve our memory, respect and gratitude.
